Wall Bug /Design by Anderssen&Voll

Wall Bug gives the children a space of their own, a hook for them and for their things. The sculptural and playful design of the wall hook speaks to children and enables their creative mindset and can easily transform into a living bug-like creature to play with. The aesthetic design of Wall Bug makes it easy to incorporate anywhere around the home and it can be placed in the hallway, bathroom and children's bedroom.

Thorbjørn Anderssen and Espen Voll are better known as the Norwegian design duo Anderssen & Voll. Their enthusiastic and pragmatic approach to creating designs that can last a lifetime in both function and aesthetic is recognised worldwide. For the first time, they can now add children's interiors to their list. Inspired by their playful childhood and based on a functional approach to design, their objects speak to the child in a playful manner but still meets the aesthetic approval of the parents.
